This classic sailing sloop is currently in use as a motor sloop. The complete rigging, as well as the complete and in excellent condition sailing wardrobe and the keel, are supplied separately. The tasteful interior is built with craftsmanship. The lifeboat, which was originally built in Aalsmeer, was on the "big sees" from 1962 to 1977. Only in 1996 completely rebuilt as pleasure boat. The new engine (2007) has only been running for 65 hours. This boat is well built and will appeal to those who love and appreciate classic boats.
